Capital and Subicus,

Time above are First Class, justly popular, and prompt paying companies. They invite investigation into their condition and solicit business entirely upon their real merits. In point of solveney and reliability and honorable dealing, they have but fine squals, and no superiors. They are founded upon the very best securities in the world—lirst class bonds and montgages upon property in New York and Brookkyn—securities that have not, for the past ten yours, depreciated below par, and are every way more reliable and permanent than infliend, bank, and other stocks, which are subject to the fluctuations of the market, and liable, in times of punic, as the experience of the past teaches, to become almost, if not entirely, valueless. And while there are Companies oncering the field of competition, well calculated to mistend by publishing partial and messided statements of their condition, and without a coals supplies on hand sufficient to reinsure their outstanding risks, the above maned companies always have and keep over and above their capital finics the amount, and in most instances, four times, needed for the reliasurance of all their risks. With such a foundation, and with such a condition, they claim the right to look with confidence to the public for literal, patronage.

Policias Issued without debay, and forms risks for a series of years taken at loss rules than can be done by Methal Companies, and a cantainty given instead of an uncertainty. All losses promptly adjusted and paid.

morning, and returned at 6 o'clock in the 11 A. M. Given by FR. SMITH, afternoon, was cordial and warm. Chas. G. Williams, esq., welcomed them with Mill. some very appropriate and well-timed remarks, and was responded to by Mr. Goodwin, speaker of the Massachusetts house of representatives, Mr. Francis Jordan, of the Bedford district, Pennsylvania, Seth Webb. of the Lowell district, Mass., and Mr. Wyman, of Boston. Each of the speakers who spoke in response to the welcome extended them, expressed the highest gratification with what they had seen in their flying visit to Wisconsin, and of the warm welcome everywhere extended them. The train stopcheers were given as it left the depot.

Hoase Thier Cardier .-- Chauncey Ferrin, who was agrested here last Wednesday by constable Gillett and under sheriff Putnam, on suspicion of stealing a horse and baggy, turns out to be a real thief. Mr. John Faherly, of Hazel Green, Grant county, arrived here this morning, and claims the property. It appears that the thief hired the horse and buggy to go a short distance into the country from Hazel Green, but started for this city, and arrived herea distance of eighty miles -- in sixteen hours. After resting a few boars, he offered the property for rule, but was suspected and arrested by the officers above named. After un examination before Police Justice Comstock this morning, he was committed in default of $800 bail.

NARROW ESCAPE -- INCIDENT AT THE LATE FIRE- The family of Mr. Thompson was asleep and were aroused by Mr. Curtis, of the Peoples' Drug Store, who rushed into the room and awoke them. He harried them down stairs in their night-clothes, and had barely time to get out when the flames burst into the room. A moment later and the entire family would have perished in the tlames. Had the train been in on time, which fortunately was near two hours late, or had it been delayed a short time longer, all the buildings in the block would have been consumed. This shows the urgent necessity of a night police, for although they may fail in arresting the incendaries, they may save much property and perhaps many lives by giving alarms of fire early when they occur. We would urge the council to take some action on the recommendation of the mayor in regard to it, and see that we have a night police established at an early day. In a series of years we have no doubt the people would be largely the gainers in the aggregate of property saved by such a course on the part of the council.

For the Daily Gazette. Messus, Europs,---I was not a little surprised on my return from the convention at Chicago to find myself advertised among the missing, and immediately said, "an enemy hath done this."

Now it may appear strange to those who desert their friends the moment the tide of battle seems to set against them, that any one should linger in the camp of the unfortunate when so much more is to be gained by being first to hail the victors. But I, who am always ready to fire the first gun, make it a rule to fice the last one also, and never to leave the field until the dead are buried and the wounded comfortably cared for. Perhaps the following will illustrate some politicians I wot of:-A very respectable lady, whose good man lay at the point of death, was inconsolable in view of her great loss. The minister of her parish had done all in his power to administer consolation, but she refused to be comforted, and he retired to his home in great depression of spirits at his poor success. Early the following morning he repaired to the scene of sorrow, expecting nothing less than to find the lady insane at least, but to his great surprise and relief, she met him at the door, sane and with a smiling countenance-" O, brother Hartman," says she, "I feel better, I am perfectly resigned to the loss of my dear man; indeed I-I-I don't know but I had rather be would die than not."

I am not of that type of politicians .-With others I went down to Chicago to do what little I might towards putting in nomination for the presidency Wm. H. Seward, believing that as a patriot, a statesman, and a representative of the great republican idea, he was the man of all others who would successfully bear aloft the banner of the great republican party; but inasmuch as the convention thought differently I submit cheerfully to their decisions, and will do as good service for Mr. Lincoln, in the coming campaign, as I should have done for Mv. Seward had he been nominated.

A second love may be more wise than a first, and more happy in its results; still the pangs of the severance of the first are not any the loss severe; nor do they indicate less fidelity or constancy to the second .-Being the first to report the missing individual, I claim the reward; but how those cancelled county orders came into the nossession of those parties is a mystery and requires investigation. Their legitimate place is in the safe of the county treasurer. I therefore offer a handsome reward for any information that may lead to the detection of the persons who abstracted them there-TREASURER.

Non-Explosive Burning Fluid USED WITH SAFETY & ECONOMY.

The Best In the Market. Palmer's Drug and Tea Store. WE have, for several years past dealt largely in BURNING FLUID, and invo always, thus far, kept fally up to the times, in any improvements made in its manufacture. Nearly a year ago, in an appeal in favor of its more general use, based upon the fact that the raw material from which it is made, is mainly the proraw material from which it is made, is mainly the pro-duct of our own farms, we publicly mmounced that there was, at the temperature at which it is generally used, "no explosive power whatever in Burning Fluid, as now made by those who understand the business in which they are engaged. That injury from its use was either the result of gross carelessness, or of under alarm caused by a belief in its explosive power," &c. Since then we have manufactured and sold thousand of gallons then we have manufactured and sout thousand of ganons of consumers in this city and vicinity, and if our assumption was an erroneous one, it would undoubtedly have been discovered are this.

We are prepared to submit our Fluid to any test the public may call for, satisfied that, with ordinary care, no safer, better or more agreeable light can be produced. As we are indebted to no travelling "Prov. Green.—O!" for the high state of perfection attained by us in its manufacture, we are, as usual, prepared to offer our manufacture, we are, as usual, prepared to offer our Finid at the LOWEST MARKET FIGURES, and to guarantee entire satisfaction in its use, or the money ro-funded.

By order of Central County Committee.

A SKETCH OF THE LIFE OF ABRA-

ABRAHAM LINCOLN, the republican candidate for the Presidency, was born in Hardin county, Ky., on the 12th of February, 1803. Mr. Lincoln is consequently fiftytwo years of age. His paternal grandfather was a native of Virginia, and was not one of the "first families," as he was a poor man. His ancestors on his mother's side were members of the Society of Friends, in the eastern part of Pennsylvania. Mr. Lincoln's father died in Kentucky when Abraham was six years of age, and at the age of eight, the latter removed to Spencer Co., Ind Here the family endured all the hardships and privations of a frontier life, at the same time the labors and dangers of the pioneer inured young Lincoln to habits of self-reliance which made him a strong hearted man, preparing him to enter the battle of life with that confidence in the native resources of his own mind, which are necessary to success. The institutions of learning in Indiana, at that time, were of the most primitive kind, and it is not surpris. ing that he was Letter skilled in the use of the riff, than in the knowledge of books. He never attended any higher institution than the common school, except that other school from which so many of our great men have graduated, the home fireside, where the indigent student has often laid the foundation of fame and greatness.

At the age of twenty-one, some thirty years ago, Mr. Lincoln removed to Macon county, Illinois, where he labored at clear ing up and fencing a farm for the family The farm is situated some three miles west of Decatur, and the remains of the old cabin yet exist-consisting of decaying logs, the large stone chimney, so characteristic of the log cabin; and the fence, which was built by himself and a fellow laborer named Hanks, is still partially preserved. Of the three thousand rails split by Lincoln and Hanks, about a thousand remain. Hanks has undertaken the job of separating those split by himself from those made by Lincoln. As he is a democrat, all we fear is that he will claim more than his share. These rails will be distributed throughout the country, and the laboring men of the country will recognise in these relies, that their candidate comes from among them, and is of them and for them. The first post of honor held by Abe Lincoln was that of captain of an Ohio river flat boat. Afterwards he joined a company which was raised to defend the frontier in the Black Hawk war, was elected captain and discharged his duty faithfully in that bloody struggle. When Mr. Lincoln came here last fall, on his return from our state fair. he pointed out the route along Rock river taken by himself and company, when on their way to join Gen. Dodge.

After returning from the Black Hawk war he removed to Sangamon county, Illinois, studied practical surveying, became an adept in his business, and pursued it until the financial crash of 1837, which ended its length and the large number in it. The his business of land surveying. He then turned his attention to the study of the law. borrowing a few books from a neighbor, studying by the light of his cabin fire at the vote that will be given by the state to night, and returning his books in the morning. In consequence of his sound sense, manly characteristics and popular manners, he became a favorite of the people. He was, about this time, elected as the whig broken out in the La Crosse Union office. candidate to the legislature of Illinois, became a good debater, and soon was acknowledged as the leader of his party in that body. While occupying this position, ing Douglas. When Mr. S. came back he industriously pursued the studies necest there was a "blow up" between the partsary to his profession, was admitted to prac- ners, the senior having no stomach for tice, and located at Springfield, where he now resides. He very soon rose to a high rank as a lawyer, and is now acknowledged as one of the ablest members of the bar in that state. His characteristics as a lawyer. next to a high order of intellect, are fairness and unscrupulous honesty. It is said that he never took a technical advantage of an opponent: he was always a friend of the young man struggling at the bar, and when pitted against them in a cause, they ever found him courteous and honorable, carrying his magnanimity to the extremest verge of duty to his client. In this he manifested the unvarying kindness and generos-

From 1849 to 1854, Mr. Lincoln took little part in political contests, and was assid uously devoted to his profession. The repeal of the Missonri compromise again brought him into the field, and for the first time he met Douglas on the stamp at Springfield. The result of that encounter was highly satisfactory to the friends of Mr. Lincoln, and he atonce entered upon the ardnous campaign of that year and continued the fight until its close. The result of it was a victory which placed Lyman Trumbull in the Senate of the United States. Mr. Lincoln has been a republican from the time of the first organization of that party. He attended the first republican state convention which was held in that state, and made a speech of great power and eloquence. From the day he first entered political life as the frieend of Henry Clay to this hour, he has been an uncom promising opponent of the extension of slavery. His speeches, made in the campaign of 1858, are before the public, and his acts and votes as a public man are on record. His words and his record, show that he is a friend of human freedom-that his policy is that of a large hearted statesman, favoring the internal improvement and the material development of the country, while his private life is above reproach. He is known all over the west as "honest old Abe Lincoln," which expresses the popular notion of the man. The people rarely err in catching the true characteristics of a public man, and we are coufident that they are right in this instance. He is "honest and rue." These are qualities sadly needed at Washington, and the people of this country

The committee appointed by the republican national convention at Chicago, consisting of the president and chairmen of the state delegations, to notify Mr. Lincoln of his nomination, arrived at Springfield on Saturday evening, and proceeded to his residence. Having assembled in the main parlor of Mr. Lincoln's residence, Mr. Ashmun addressed him in a brief speech, notifying him of his nomination. Mr. Lincoln replied as follows:

"Mr. Chairman and Gentlemen of the Committee, I tender to you, and through you to the republican national convention, und all the people represented in it, my profoundest thanks for the high honor done me, which you formally announce. Deeply and even painfully sensible of the great responsibility which is inseparable from that honor—a responsibility which i could almost wish had failen upon some one of the far more eminent men and experienced statesmen whose distinguished names were before the convention, I shall, by your leave, consider more fully the resolutions of the convention, denominated the platform, and without unreasonable delay respond to you, Mr. Chairman, in writing, not doubting that the platform will be found satisfactory. and the nomination accepted; and now will no longer defer the pleasure of taking you and each of you by the hand."

The various members of the committee were then presented to Mr. Lincoln, who greeted each of them with a hearty shake of the hand.

He was elected to congress in 1843, where he served two terms. A member of the Unit-ed States senate in 1854, he apposed, with great vigor, the repeal of the Missouri compromise. Subsequently he was elected governor of the state of Maine; and at the expiration of his term of office, he was again returned to the senate of which body he is at the present time one of the ablest and most active members. Possessed of great personal popularity, the name of Hannibal Hamlin adds much strength to the ticket.

Wisconsin in Procession .- Amid the quick succession of noticable events at the Chicago convention, we have omitted to notice the procession of residents of Wisconsin which escorted the Wisconsin and New York delegates to the convention Friday morning. Though only a portion of the residents of this state were in the line, the procession attracted much attention from "badger state" was represented more largley than any other state in the Union, except Illinois. This attendance is an earnest of the nominees of the convention. Wisconsin will do the "clean thing" next November.

AN UNNECESSARY WORK .- Those of our riends who design to visit us with the gratifying information that they knew from the outset that Lincoln would receive the nomination at Chicago, are informed that we have already received visits enough of that character to fully satisfy us that there are a great many wiser men than ourselves. We come down" without any further evidences and respectfully ask that our own ignorance may not be too often brought to our recollection.

The visits of another class, viz. those who come to teach us our duty, can also be dispensed with. We have the vanity to be lieve that we clearly understand that branch of the subject, and possess the disposition to discharge all the obligations resting upon us. Labor in this department can be better bestowed in another quarter.

THE NUMBERS AT CHICAGO.-The Chica. go Tribune makes the following estimate of the number of attendants from abroad at the autional convention,

CONTENTS OF THE WIGWAM .- A very careful and accurate count was made of the number of persons in the huge wigwam vesterday, at the time the balloting was taking place, and resulted as follows:

In the galleries, On the stand. Under the galleries, On the stairs, Within the railing, 12,150Outside of the building stood an earnest impatient, excited crowd of 12,000 men. making the whole number of persons in the wigwam and around it nearly 24,000. were in the city many thousands of visitors besides the above. The whole number of besides the above. persons from abroad in Chicago yesterday exceeded 30,000.

This is, by no means, an over-estimate When the wigwam was filled to repletion and the area about the building was packed with a dense crowd, there was apparently no diminution of the number of persons throng ing the streets. More people would place the number of attendants from abroad at 50,000 than 30,000.

From the Watertown Democrat. Summary Manner of "Committing" Matrimony.

Farmington, of this county, has been, within the few weeks past, the scene of one of the most singular incidents in the matrimonial line that it has ever been my fortune or misfortune-to hear of. Being personally acquainted with one of the parties and having had a statement of the facts from his own lips, if its novelty will interest will your readers, I will give a brief statement of the same.

Stepublican Club Meeting.

A meeting of the Janesville City Republican Club will be held at the court room THIS EVENING, at 7 o'clock, to make arrangements for the Mass Meeting to-morrow, and to co-operate with the Wide-Awakes.

A general attendance of the republicans of the city is requested.

R. B. TREAT, President. A. A. JACESON, Secretary.

Reception of the Vistors.

The reception of the visitors to Wisconsin, who passed through this city Saturday morning, and returned at 6 o'clock in the 11 A. M. Given by Fr. SMITH, afternoon, was cordial and warm. Chas. G. Williams, esq., welcomed them with some very appropriate and well-timed remarks, and was responded to by Mr. Goodwin, speaker of the Massachusetts house of representatives, Mr. Francis Jordan, of the Bedford district, Pennsylvania, Seth Webb. of the Lowell district, Mass., and Mr. Wyman, of Boston. Each of the speakers who spoke in response to the welcome extended them, expressed the highest gratification with what they had seen in their flying visit to Wisconsin, and of the warm welcome everywhere extended them. The train stopped nearly an hour in the city, and hearty cheers were given as it left the depot.

Horse Thier Caught .- Channey Ferrin, who was arrested here last Wednesday by constable Gillett and under sheriff Putnam, or suspicion of stealing a horse and buggy, turns out to be a real thief. Mr. ed." we would condidly invite all our citizens to call at John Faherty, of Hazel Green, Grant count the office, southwest corner of Main and Wisconsin ty, arrived here this morning, and claims the property. It appears that the thief hired the horse and buggy to go a short dis tance into the country from Hazel Green, but started for this city, and arrived herea distance of eighty miles-in sixteen hours. After resting a few hours, he offered the property for sale, but was suspected and arrested by the officers above named. After an examination before Police Justice Comstock this morning, he was committed in default of $800 bail.

NARROW ESCAPE - INCIDENT AT THE LATE FIRE.—The family of Mr. Thompson was asleep and were aroused by Mr. Curtis, of the Peoples' Drug Store, who rushed into the room and awoke them. He hurried them down stairs in their night-clothes, and had barely time to get out when the flames burst into the room. A moment later and the entire family would have perished in the flames. Had the train been in on time, which fortunately was near two hours late, or had it been delayed a short time longer, all the buildings in the block would have been consumed. This shows the urgent necessity of a night police, for although they may fail in arresting the incendaries, they may save much property and perhaps many lives by giving clarms of fire early when they occur. We would urge the council to take some action on the recommendation of the mayor in regard to it, and see that we have a night police established at an early day. In a series of years we have no doubt the people would be largely the gainers in the aggregate of property saved by such a course on the part of the council.

For the Daily Gazette. MESSRS. EDITORS.—I was not a little surrised on my return from the convention a Chicago to find myself advertised among the missing, and immediately said, "an enemy hath done this."

Now it may appear strange to those who desert their friends the moment the tide of battle seems to set against them, that any one should linger in the camp of the unfortunate when so much more is to be gained by being first to hail the victors. But I, who am always ready to fire the first gun, make it a rule to fire the last one also, and never to leave the field until the dead are buried and the wounded comfortably cared for. Perhaps the following will illustrate some politicians I wot of:-A very respectable lady, whose good man lay at the point of death, was inconsolable in view of her great loss. The minister of her parish had done all in his power to administer consolation, but she refused to be comforted, and he retired to his home in great depression of spirits at his poor success. Early the following morning he repaired to the scene of sorrow, expecting nothing less than to find the lady insane at least, but to his great surprise and relief, she met him at the door, sane and with a smiling countenance-" O, brother Hartman," says she, "I feel better, I am perfectly resigned to the loss of my dear man; indeed I.I.I don't know but I had rather he would die than not."

I am not of that type of politicians .-With others I went down to Chicago to do what little I might towards putting in nomination for the presidency Win. H. Seward, believing that as a patriot, a statesman, and a representative of the great republican idea, he was the man of all others who would successfully bear aloft the banner of the great republican party; but inasmuch as the convention thought differently I submit cheerfully to their decisions, and will do as good service for Mr. Lincoln, in the coming campaign, as I should have done for Mr. Seward had he been nominated.

A second love may be more wise than a first, and more happy in its results; still the pangs of the severance of the first are not any the less severe; nor do they indicate less fidelity or constancy to the second .-Being the first to report the missing individual, I claim the reward; but how those cancelled county orders came into the possession of those parties is a mystery and requires investigation. Their legitimate place is in the safe of the county treasurer. I therefore offer a handsome reward for any information that may lead to the detection of the persons who abstracted them there-TREASURER.

Ratification Meeting.

The Republicans of Rock county will meet in this city to-morrow to ratify the nominations made in Chicago last week, If the day is pleasant there will be a large attendance from the country, and the opening of the campaign will be in the old spirit of '56.

We are not able to announce fully to-day the arrangements as to speakers, but they are so far known as to warrant the expectarespect:

The meeting will assemble at 2 o'clock in the afternoon at the court room, from which an adjournment can be had if neces sary.
